

Physician Advisor Opportunity

The Department of Health and Wellness \(DHW\) is seeking an inaugural Physician Advisor, Quality and Patient Safety (QPS) on a part time basis (approximately up to 45 hours per month).

The Quality and Patient Safety Branch at DHW provides leadership to guide and drive quality improvement across the health care system through policy, legislation, measurement, monitoring and reporting.

A DHW physician resource for QPS is critical to support and enable the Department to fully realize the dual responsibilities of leadership and monitoring and accountability in the areas of quality and patient safety.

The mandate of this exciting new role is to:

- assist in driving continuous quality improvement in health care for Nova Scotia by providing leadership, expertise and advice on current DHW quality and patient safety priorities and
- participating in the development of provincial oversight & reporting mechanisms to improve health-system performance.

Physician engagement is essential for quality and patient safety improvements; this will be a key role for the Physician Advisor.

The inaugural Physician Advisor is an exceptional leader with the vision and scholarly profile to understand and nurture the complex interrelationships required to develop and implement quality improvement that integrates the public, health teams, health leaders, physicians and policy makers to strengthen and improve healthcare patient outcomes.
